

I've lost my examination certificates, where can I get hold of copies?

Contact the exam boards directly for replacement certificates, using the links below for further information:

AQA - <http://www.aqa.org.uk/contact-us/past-results-and-lost-certificates>

OCR - <http://www.ocr.org.uk/students/lost-or-incorrect-certificates/>

WJEC - <http://www.wjec.co.uk/students/certificates/>

Pearson / Edexcel - <https://qualifications.pearson.com/en/support/Services/replacement-certificates.html>

Over the past twenty years a number of examination boards have merged. If you are not sure which board/s you took your examinations with or how to contact them please see the document produced by Ofqual at <http://www.ofqual.gov.uk/help-and-support/94-articles/264-getting-copies-of-exam-certificates> this shows how examination boards merged to form the current awarding bodies.

If you still cannot remember which board/s you took your examinations with you can contact the various awarding bodies to see if they have a record of you achieving a qualification with them. If they cannot find a record of your qualification with them and therefore cannot issue confirmation they will not make any charge.

Please note that there is generally a charge for issuing confirmation of qualifications and you will need to be able to prove that you are the certificate holder.

If your old exam board no longer exists

Check which board to contact for a replacement certificate or certified statement of results if your old board no longer exists.
