Component 2: Text in Performance

Text and extract choice

Centres have a choice when selecting texts. However, the two key extracts must be from two different performance texts, these texts must meet the following criteria.

- Be professionally published, substantial and have a running time of at least 60 minutes.
- Be chosen so it offers students the opportunity to demonstrate exploratory range and depth.
- Offer students the opportunity to access the demands of this component as a performer and/or designer.
- Have the degree of challenge, in terms of appropriateness of content, complexity of themes, deeper social, historical and cultural contexts to enable students to achieve at A level and meet the Assessment Objective.
- Be different from the texts studied in Component 1 and Component 3, so students study a range of performance texts.
- Cannot be any prescribed text from the Component 3 lists.

The performance texts chosen could be different in terms of their:

- time period
- theatrical convention/genre
- thematic content, form/structure and style
- playwright
- social, historical and cultural contexts.

Centres may select performance texts by a playwright already studied in Components 1 and 3 provided there is a difference between these texts. They should consider the skills, experience and prior learning of students in choosing texts that will engage students' interest throughout the considerable preparation and rehearsal time needed for this Component.

Students must study two key extracts from two different performance texts. For the purposes of this qualification, a key extract is defined as a scene or a moment that is significant to the text as a whole and at least 10 minutes in length when performed. This can take the form of a continuous dialogue/scene, or edited extracts, for example abridging the extract to match the number of performers in a group. For the monologue/duologue, the extract chosen may be edited to provide the required amount of material, but must provide a coherent monologue or duologue.

Students are required to perform/realise a design for all or part of these key extracts, following the time limit requirements below. Centres can choose different performance texts, all students are not required to study the same texts.

Centres should consider the skills, experience and prior learning of students in choosing texts that will engage their interest throughout the considerable preparation and rehearsal time needed for this component.

Centres are reminded that they must complete the online form regarding text choice. Please refer to page 7 of the Pearson Edexcel Level 3 Advanced GCE in Drama and Theatre Specification for details.

For full details regarding text and extract choice and more information on Component 2: Text in Performance, please refer to the Pearson Edexcel Level 3 Advanced GCE in Drama and Theatre Specification.
